He had done such remarkable work at New Orleans during the win his services were soon in demand. James R. Keene secured second call, which was afterward relinquished. Then John E. Madden put Sewell up repeatedly, the boy champion two-year-old Salvidere pearly all of his races. He also piloted Ram's Horn to victory in the $25,000 Brighton Handicap and easily took rank with the hest riders in the saddle. she tried to drag the boy away with her. "You ran away from home and you know me Several Pinkertons interfered at this in-teresting stage and rescued Notter by main strength. The boy's parents are well known. They live in a home near the Coney Island Boulevard which the jockey built recently with his earnings. Notter said that he never before saw the woman who tried to kidnap him. The woman declared that she had seen Notter's picture in a newspaper and was sure that he was her wayward son. She was soon convinced of her error. Before leaving for his home in Kentucky yesterday F. A. Forsythe sold the two-yearold colt Tourenne for $10,000 to the Kirkfield Stable, owned by the McKenzie brothers of Toronto. The colt will carry their colors in the Grand Consolation Stakes at Washington. Forsythe sold Fountainblue, it will be mbered, to James B. Brady, for $25,000. The bookmakers had a most trying day. Beginning with the first race they got the'r bumps for keeps. With the public betting on Frank Farrell's erratic colt Mintia, a favorite who went up in the prices from 7 to 5 to 9 to 2, the wise fish plunged on Jimmy Mc-Cormick's Emergency, who was beaten from 3 down to 11 to 5. John W. Gates led the plunge on this fellow, while Dave Johnson took him a place for a bunch. Reticent, who ran third, was played three ways, his price dropping from 60 to 30. Battleaxe, Givonni Balerio and Cassandra were also liberally

The result of the Queensboro steeplechas was an even break or thereabouts for the ring. Expansionist, played by the public, went up from 9 to 14 to even, while the smart set backed Yama Christy from 7 to 5 to 6 to Commandant was well taken for the place at 8 to 5, with light betting three ways on a supposed good thing in Potash, who was as high as 60 to 1 at one period.

The big operators did not seem to care much for Mr. Keene's Veil in the Beldame, which was won last year by Flip Flap. The Disguise filly, as a result, opened at even money, but went back to 13 to 10 when Mr. lates sent in a commission to the books that backed her down to 6 to 5. But nearly all the other plungers took Barbary Belle, who was backed steadily at 8 to 5, only to be practically left at the post. As Adoration, with Miller up, was widely played for the place, the ring lost something on the general result, as the bulk of the crowd went to the Keene

Thousands were wagered on Running Water to win the Edgemere. As it was said she was a trifle short in the Election Day Handicap and was taking up seven pounds less this time, the wise men tried to swamp the books with all kinds of wagers, that reduced her price from 8 to 5 to 6 to 5. Frank Gill was soliciy backed both ways and ran a remarkable race for a two-year-old. Mr. Keene's Philander went begging meanwhile among the shrewd players, his price woing up from 6 to 5 to 3 to 2. staggered when the judges awarded the race to the Sir Dixon mare by an eyelash, nearly all the layers figuring up a loss in their sheets. Another plunge on Leonard Joe Hayman, backed down from 7 to 5 to practically even money, would have killed the ring in the fifth race had it not seen for the great play on Frank Farrell's Keator, who was reduced to 8 to 5 at the last moment. Hallowmas was taken by Jesse Lewisohn and others. E. R. Thomas's Onatas, who came out of the haddock looking as if he had received a shower path, was also well played across the slates, its odds dropping from 10 to 7. The ring broke about even, with some of the books that laid Keator and held the favorite clean-

Miller, as usual, did the most consistent work in the saddle, with a winner, two seconds and a third.

Beats Frank Gill by Two Inches in a Hot

More than 20,000 persons enjoyed the racing at Aqueduct yesterday afternoon. It was a profitable victory too, as four favor-ites and two second choices were victorious, all well supported. The Edgemere, for all ages, a weight for age affair, at a mile and a furlong, proved the most inter-esting event from a racing standpoint. The Newcastle Stable's Running Water was a heavily backed favorite, at 6 to 5, with James R. Keene's Philander going back to 3 to 2 and J. L. McGinnis's Frank Gill remaining steady at 4. Frank Gill cut out a swift pace but in the long run home Running Water hooked up with him, and in a ding dong finish the latter won by a couple of inches in 152, a new track record, with Philander, always outrun, four lengths behind Gill. Notter, who rode the latter, claimed a foul against the winner, but it was not allowed.

Mr. Keene's Veil, 6 to 5 favorite, had a world of speed in the Beldame Stakes, for two-year-old fillies, five furlongs. She broke in front and stood the others on their heads. running the distance in 0:59, a new record for the track, and beating R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s., Adoration, 4 to 1, by three lengths. The latter, under a hard drive from Miller, had half a length over Frank Brown's Loring, 15 to 1. E. R. Thomas's Barbary Belle, loaded down at 8 to 5, was practically left at the post, after which she never had a chance to be Another poor sendoff in the fifth event. at a mile, burned up thousands placed on Frank Farrell's Keator at 8 to 5. The Cheraxus gelding, always a bad actor at the post, failed to break with the others, but he made up at least a dozen lengths in the run up the back stretch and then hung on so gamely that he finished third. With an even break he could not have lost. As it was, L. J. Hayman, a hot favorite at 6 to 5. made all the running and won rather easily by two lengths from Hallowmas, played by two lengths from Hallowmas, played down to 8. The latter was a length and a half before Keator. The time was 1:40 flat.

Mr. Farrell's Mintia, a lukewarm favorite in the first race, for platers, at six furlongs, did his best but he was no match for J. H. McCormick's Emergency, backed from 3 down to 11 to 5, who galloped home four lengths to the good in 1:14 1-5. Mintia ran second, with Reticent, a 30 to 1 shot, a length and a half away.

W. Gould Brokaw's Expansionist, even money favorite, won the Queensboro Steeple-chase, about two and a haif miles, in a fairly easy style by a length over the Bonnie Brook Stable's Yama Christy, a to 5, with Potash, 40 to 1, fifteen lengths back and T. hitchcock, Jr.'s Commandant, 8 to 1, a bad last. The time was 5:43.

coek, Jr.'s Commandant, 8 to 1, a bad last. The time was 5:43.

There was nothing to the last race, for maiden two-year-olds, six and a baif furlongs, but the Albemarie Stable's Adelinette, backeti from 6 down to 7 to 2. She went to the front with a great turn of speed and was never caught, winning on the bit by a length and a half in 1:21 2-5. P. J. Dwyer's Judge Post, a receding favorite, had a mortgage on the place, which he took from Reba Stone, 15 to 1, by five lengths. Pierrot, Blue Book and Ellisdale, all good things, were knocking at the door. The summaries:

An international athletic alliance has been formed between the Amateur Athletic Union formed between the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States and the Union des Sociétés Françaises des Sports Athlétiques of France. Each side will recognize the decisions and rulings of the other and it is hinted that a big international meet next year is on the tapis. Included in the rules is a clause stipulating that no international match among clubs from either country shall take place without the consent of the governing bodies. It is the first alliance of the A. A. U. with a foreign body.

AT WAVERLY MEET.

M. H. Angar, After Einishing Third to Bus roughs in Long Race, Comes to Grief -Schutt Also Has Narrow Escape When Car Turns Turtle-No Serious Injuries

But for a couple of accidents, in neither of which any one was seriously injured, the New Jersey Automobile and Motor Club might have succeeded yesterday in finishing up its election day programme at Waverly Park, near Newark. Five events were scheduled but only two of these were finished before daylight ended, though two special events were run, a five mile match between the famous old Reobird and a Bulck, and three mile motor cycle contest. A ten mile free-for-all, a special exhibition race and the five mile New Jersey Automobile and Motor Club handicap had to be called off because of the darkness. The grand stand was filled to its utmost capacity but there were not any where near as many spectators present as there were for the election day meet. The fact that there was no Ernest Keeler, with his Vanderbilt cup candidate, to try for records yesterday as there was last Tuesday night had something to do with the comparative scarcity of spectators yesterday, even though five thousand or so enjoyed the free show at the pretty little public park.

The worst accident occurred after the final ten mile heat of the twenty-five mile handicap.
M. H. Apgar, driver of the Pope-Hartford that finished third, did not slacken up after completing the race distance, as he had not seen the starter waving the red flag that denoted the end of the contest. He made another circuit of the track at full speed, and as he began swinging around the first turn on another lap at full speed his car suddenly swerved to the right, smashed through the outside fence and was stopped by a small hill a couple of yards away from the fence. Robert Miller, 25 years old, of Hunterdon avenue, Newark, had been standing at the fence when the car plunged through and he was knocked down. One of his legs was injured and he was badly shaken up, but no bones were broken. He was taken to the City Hospital in an automobile. M. H. Apgar, the driver, was not injured at all, but Charles Apgar of Summit, who was acting as his mechanic, was knocked off the car and was picked up in a rather dazed condition. He had no serious injuries, for the first coherent speech he made after the mishap was a request for a cigarette. The tire on the right rear wheel was torn off when the car struck rear wheel was torn off when the car struck the fence.

The other accident occurred when 15 laps or 7½ miles had been covered in the second heat of the twenty-five mile handicap. Walter Schutt, who was driving a 22 horse-power Buick, hugged the pole too closely on the backstretch and hit the fence. The left front wheel of his car struck one of the 4x4 fence posts, splitting the post and moving it three inches in the ground. The impact broke the fastenings which held the axle to the body of the car, and after the machine had travelled seventy feet further the axie and the two front wheels slid back under the car. The front of the machine dropped down and the car turned completely over, pinning Schutt underneath it. In spite of the efforts of the police, a thousand or two spectators ran to the spot. When the car was righted Schutt was uninjured, as the sides of the tonneau had saved him from injury.

The big race of the day was the twenty-five mile handicap, which had two trial heats at that distance and a final heat at ten miles. H. J. Koehler, 22 horse-power Buick runabout, with the limit allowance of two minutes, won the first trial heat in 34 minutes 17 seconds. The second heat had to be stopped owing to the number of spectators who swarmed the track after Schutt's accident, but was started over again, C. R. Burroughs, 24 horse-power Packard, winning from scratch in 35 minutes 25 seconds. The final heat of ten miles had six starters. Koehler led until he reached the beginning of the homestretch on the last lap, when Burroughs overhauled him and beat him out in the race to the tape by less than two feet. M. H. Apgar, 20-25 Pope-Hartford, who was on scratch with Burroughs, had difficulty getting his clutch engaged at the start and Burroughs had gained two-thirds of a lap on him before he got going. After he did get going he began to cut down the lead that Eurroughs had gained and finished third at the end of the race, about twenty-five yards behind Burroughs and Koehler. Apgar went through the fence before the

An impromptu match at five miles was arranged between the famous little old record breaker, the 32 horse-power Reobird, and the 22 horse-power Buick skeleton that won the first 100 mile race at the Empire City track. Dan Wurgis was not present to drive the Reobird, it being piloted by F. C. Stowers, while H. J. Koehler drove the Buick. Koehler received a handicap of one lap of the halfmile track, Stowers making a standing start as Koehler finished his first half mile. The handicap proved too much for the Roebird and though Stowers caucht and passed Koehler after he got going, he could not make up the full half mile, being about an eighth of a mile behind at the finish. Stowers's time for the five miles was 6 minutes, 50 seconds, and Keohler's time was 7 minutes 1 second.

seconds, and Keobler's time was 7 minutes, 50 seconds.

Another special race was a three mile contest for motor cycles. J. W. Ward, mounted on a double cylinder 4½ horse-power Indian, competed against "Daredevil" Bob Hunter, on a single cylinder 14 horse-power De Dion pacing machine which was imported from France sexeral years ago to pace Joe Nelson in motor paced cycle races. Ward was the quicker starter and soon opened up a big gap between himself and Hunter. Several times in the first mile and a half Hunter drew up near Ward, but the latter fought him off in each instance, as Hunter had trouble on the turns, where his heavy machine skidded badly on account of its long wheel base. Hunter is a veteran of the motor paced style of bicycle racing, however, and he soon became accustomed to the turns. He drew up close to Ward in the fourth lap and very cleverly took both the pole and the lead away from his opponent, leading at the end of the second mile. Ward tried hard to catch him, but Hunter won the race with twenty-five but Hunter won the race with twenty-five yards to spare in 4 minutes 5 seconds.

NEW AUTO TRACK RECORD.

Wallace Covers 50 Miles in 1 Hour 1 Minute 20 2-3 Seconds.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10 .- A crowd of auto-nobile enthusiasts estimated at 8,000 saw the world's record for a fifty mile track race broken on the historic racecourse at Point Breeze to-day, when the 40-60 horse-power Darracq touring car owned by C. A. Schroeder and driven by William E. Wallace covered the distance in 1 hour 1 minute 20 2-5 seconds, defeating the 40 horse-power Oldsmobile driven by Ernest Keeler. The latter finished in 1 hour 2 minutes 41 2-5 seconds. The Pope-Toledo, driven by Frank Yeager, was third, but no time was announced for the machine. The race was a thrilling one. The winning Darracq took the lead in the thirty-sixth mile and held it to the fluish.

Walter Christic made an exhibition mile in 1 minute 8 seconds. He drove the same car he used in the Vanderbilt race, and previous to making the time given above covered a mile in 1 minute 9 seconds. In the three mile race for gasolene cars costing $1,500 the 11 horse-power Buick won in 4 minutes. The three mile handlcap race for steam cars was won by the White, which had a start of 200 yards. The Stanley, from scratch, got second place

The 28 horse-power Mercedes won the two mile race for antique cars in 2 minutes 52 2-5 seconds. The event was open only to cars built not later than 1904. N. H. Wray won the three mile motorcycle race in 3 minutes 53 2-5 seconds. The five mile free for all was captured by a 20 horse-power Stanley. The 30 horse-power Packard landed the Elsie Janis cnp race of five miles in 6 minutes 94-5 seconds. It was a five mile event. D. Walter Harper's Stanley steamer defeated a Jackson, driven by W. Owen, in the closing race of the day, a five mile event for American touring cars.

Irish American Athlete Wins Two Championships in the Carden. CAR CRASHES THROUGH FENCE

The Amateur Athletic Union indoor championship carnival in Madison Square Garden came to a close last night and the crowd in attendance was a big improvement on the opening night. Nine events constituted the programme, which was totally different from Friday night, and they were 60, 150, 600 yard and five mile runs, 300 yard low hurdles, standing high jump, three standing jumps. shot put, and pole vault for height. Only first class men competed and every contest proved interesting to the spectators. Those in the boxes and galleries knew the name and form of the athletes, and liberal applause greeted the doings of the cracks in all cases.

A remarkable feature of the meet was the order kept on the floor, for no interlopers were allowed to force their way in, and even the officials were so arranged that they did not crowd any single point, not even the finish line. Here, too, boxes were placed and only the officials and timers were allowed to enter. All others were made to keep a respectable the officials and timers were allowed to enter. All others were made to keep a respectable distance away.

Though several of the events were close and exciting a few were foregone conclusions. Ray C. Ewry, who holds the world's record for the standing high jump and three standing jumps, was on hand to defend the titles, but somehow the tall man from Bayonne disappointed the crowd when he failed to shatter his old marks. The record for the high jump is 5 feet 5½ inches, made at the Stadium, Buffalo, on September 7, 1901, and the best mark for the three jumps is 35 feet 8½ inches, made in Long Island City on September 7, 1903.

The five mile run created the usual furor among the crowd, especially with the fine field of twenty-five starters. Among them was William Nelson, the plucky fittle Englishman who won the national A. A. U. outdoor title at Travers Island last September. On that occasion Bonhag lost his shoe, and he was out last night to demonstrate that but for the accident he would have beaten Nelson. Other prominent starters were John J. Daly, E. P. Carr, W. G. Frank, Winfield Barley, S. L. Root, H. W. Cohen, and about a dozen men from Columbia University.

The first event on the card was the 150 yard run, and after a couple of trial heats Cohalan, Robertson, Archer and Stevens got on the mark for the final. As the race was run in lanes around two sharp curves it was hard to know who really led, but Robertson seemed to be gathering the most speed. When they straightened for home he showed to be a yard in front of Cohalan, and by this distance he won. Cohalan beat Stevens a similar distance and Archer was a close fourth.

The most exciting event of the night, and

The most exciting event of the night, and for that matter the most hair raising contest seen in the Garden in many years, was the 600 yard with Sheppard as the sure thing and a 1 to 100 shot in the estimation of a big majority of those present, Among a smart field of half a dozen was Parsons of Yale University and wearing the emblem of the New York A. C., and the man who it will be remembered ran the distance in the indoor record time of 1 minute 14 seconds last winter.

Paul H. Pilgrim, C. H. Bacon and H. A. Sedley were also in the fray. At the crack of the gun there was a rare scramble for the post, but Parsons showed in front after the muddle and he carried the boys along at a fearful, clip with Sedley, Pilgrim and Bacon a couple of yards behind. Sheppard was bringing up the rear. Somehow or another the crowd expected Sheppard to fly to the front every second and leave his opponents as if they were waiking, but he never flew, although he dug in with might and main. The further Parsons went the finer he strode, antil he won easing up, beating Bacon, the second man, by several yards. Sedley was a good third and Pilgrim a very close fourth. Sheppard stopped about sixty yards from home, run clean to a standstill.

Harry L. Hillman brought the crowd to its feet in the 300 yard hurdle, and a new world's record under the conditions saw the light. He beat Eller, his nearest rival, by four yards, and the time was 36 2-5 seconds, wiping away the old record of 36 2-5 seconds, wiping away the old record of 35 3-4 seconds made by A. C. Kraenzlein at the Chicago Collseum on May 10, 1897. In the field events there was a surprise in store for the crowd when M. J. Sheridan defeated Ray C. Ewry in the three standing jumps by two and a quarter inches.

EASY RIDING SPRINGS LOZIER LESSONS-READ THEM ALL

The rear springs of THE LOZIER MOTOR CAR are of the kind known as the "three-point suspension" or "platform spring" type, and now used on the finest of the large foreign cars. This spring equipment consists of a cross spring in addition to the usual two side springs, giving approximately 40% greater total spring length than is secured with the regular form of half-elliptic suspension. The shackles connecting the three rear springs provide not only for the foreand-aft movement, but also absorb the side motion, which is otherwise uncomfortably communicated to the body of the car. Incidentally, this last feature conduces to a saving on tire wear-and-tear. The platform spring suspension also gives greater spring length without necessitating the projection of the springs beyond the rear of the body or chassis frame, thus leaving a clear space for luggage racks.
